ficers Cusick and Bond. Swanson was found drunk, lying in the gutter at the corner of Prospect and Mark streets.

In his hearing in mayor's court this morning the feeble old man pleaded guilty to a charge of drunk-ness and the mayor released him upon his promise to leave town.

SWEARS TO GOD HE IS INNOCENT MAN

Jerry Williams is Sentenced For Life.

Convicted of Murder of Shad Westbrook—Case will be Carried to the Criminal Court.

Mt. Gilead, O., July 17—Special. "Before God I am innocent," said Jerry Williams when sentenced to life imprisonment in the Ohio penitentiary by Judge R. M. Campbell, Tuesday morning.

The case will be taken to the circuit court. Williams said that he would rather be sent to the pen-than stay in the Morrow county jail, until the trial.

Williams was convicted of the murder of Shadbrook Westbrook, the farmer whose body was found near Cardington along the river, several years ago. Westbrook was well known in Marion.

ARE DAMAGING THE HINAMON TURNPIKE

Suit Brought to Stop Use of the Pike.

Bondsman of Contractor W. C.
Wooley Say Should not Use Road Until it is Finished.

Through their attorneys, Copeland and Bartram, George B. Christian and Caleb Norris today filed a petition in the common pleas court asking that the Ohio Oil company be enjoined from sending its teams over the Hinamon free turnpike, north of the city.

The petition states that W. C.
Wooley contracted with the commissioners to build the turnpike. Wooley did the grading and put a part of the stone on the road, and then for some reason not given, refused to continue. The wagons of the Ohio Oil company are going over the road daily and damaging it, according to the petitioners, and unless this is stopped it will be necessary to do practically all of the grading over again. Messrs. Christian and Norris are Wooley's bondsmen.

Judge Young granted a temporary injunction, restraining the Oil Company from using the road until the case can be heard on its merits.

MYSTERY IS UNSOLVABLE

Scott Richardson's Slayer may Never be Found

NO CLUES ARE SECURED

Authorities Told Richardson had no Money.

Investigation Made by Coroner and Prosecutor is Practically Fruitless—Authorities Still Working.

It is probable that the murderer of Scott Richardson, whose body was found partially submerged in the waters of the Whetstone river at Caledonia Sunday morning, will never be brought to justice. Coroner Brady, assisted by Prosecuting Attorney John H. Clark, conducted investigation at Caledonia, Tuesday morning, but the examination of a score of witnesses failed to bring anything new to light.

As a result of the investigation it was learned that Richardson left the Henry saloon about 10 o'clock Saturday evening and this was the last seen of him in Caledonia until his body was found Sunday morning. So far as could be determined, he had had no trouble with anyone. He was practically a stranger to Caledonia people, having been acquainted with scarcely a dozen persons.

Witnesses who saw Richardson in the Henry place declare that he was not drinking heavily and that shortly before leaving he had remarked that he was "dead broke." The coroner was unable to learn definitely that Richardson had money when leaving for the home of his sister, and thus no motive for murder can be ascertained. The officers at Caledonia are still searching for a clue and the case will not be abandoned until some satisfactory conclusion is reached.

ODD FELLOWS HOLD THEIR INSTALLATION

ing—News of the Lodges.

At a well attended meeting of

O. F., Tuesday night, the recently the remaining officers were appointed and installed. Fred Fatzler was the installing officer.

refreshments at Hazen's.

If the unforeseen does not happen, the Order of Golden Eagles which was several years ago disbanded for lack of members, will be re-established in Marion. A.
J. Duant, of Owens street has been busy several days renewing interest in the lodge.

A sufficient number of charter members has been secured and a charter has been applied for. Judging from the interest of the people and the success of those promoting the movement, the lodge will no doubt be formed.

The Order of Golden Eagles has no connection with that of the Knights of the Golden Eagle, as it has no insurance provisions.

The Daughters of America held their regular meeting Tuesday evening with a fair attendance. One application for membership was tional organization.

rank of Knight at a regular meeting

Pythias, held in its hall on East Church street, Tuesday evening. This is the last degree work to be done before cold weather. One application was received.

There was a fair attendance at the regular meeting of the Druids circle Tuesday evening. Routine business took up the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Bondley, of Park street, pleasantly entertained the Spanish War Veterans Tuesday evening. There was to have been a lawn fete but, owing to the rain, the time was spent indoors. Nearly all the veterans were present.

The D. A. E. fraternity members entertained their ladies at a pleasant affair in the fraternity hall on West Center street, Tuesday night. It had been intended to picnic at Marion park, but the hard rains prevented and the time was spent at the Fraternity quarters. An excellent supper was served and the evening was spent with music and dancing. Those present were Miss Irma Liebold, of Columbus, Miss Tod Kwis, of Findlay, and Misses Bonnie Pin-yard, Olga Morganthaler, Irene Crowhaugh, Hazel Leffler, and Messrs.
Clifford Tidd, John Sargent, James Woods, Fred Haberman, Emerson Schoenlaub, Godfrey Leffler, and Oswald Wollenweber.

Mrs. S. D. Schweinfurth and Mrs.
Christian Melly pleasantly entertained the members of the Cudde club at the Schweinfurth home on Cherry street, Tuesday afternoon. The afternoon was taken up with social pastimes. A guessing contest was won by Mrs.
Louis Uhl. Guests of the club were Mrs. Frank Ritzhaupt, Miss Hazel Zieg and Mrs. Frank Myers.

The club will meet in two weeks with Mrs. Partlow of John street.
Mrs. Harry GIL, of North Grand Avenue delightfully entertained the members of the B. B. club Tuesday night. The time was spent in emulory work and social chat. Refreshments were served and a program of musical selections was enjoyed. Arrangements were made for a picnic to be held next Wednesday afternoon at Marion park.

Several friends pleasantly surprised Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McClain at the Europan hotel parlors, Tuesday evening. The surprise was in the form of a musicale. After several selections, the evening was spent in social chat. The guests of honor were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller of Crestline.

CITY MARKET NEEDS RULES

Patrons Complaining About Condition of Goods Sold.

VEGETABLES GET WILTED

Is Said Produce is Not Fresh From Gardens.

Steps to be Taken to Adopt Rules
Which People Selling Produce Must Observe.

Business is decided slack at the city market and patrons are becoming fewer every day. There were only three stalls occupied today and the customers that visited the shed could be counted on the fingers.

The fact is that the building is not properly equipped for keeping produce during the hot weather. Not a pound of ice has been used at the place this summer and patrons are inclined to think that meat, vegetables and other perishable material cannot be kept fresh without some sort of a refrigerator. The retail man might equip his stall with a refrigerator, but he deems it too expensive for a short time which he is liable to use it.

There has been a great deal of complaint registered by various merchants of the city who have to compete with the market house. They claim that there are a number of men retailing at the market who purchase their produce at the wholesale grocery. They can undersell the storeroom merchants because rent at the market is hardly one-tenth of what the average merchant pays for his storeroom.

The market house was established for the purpose of giving the people an opportunity of purchasing produce coming direct from the garden in which it is grown. The farmer or gardener is supposed to be a retailer at any market house. People do not go to the market house to purchase that which has been handled by several wholesale grocers. They expect to buy direct from the grower who picks the fruit in the morning and sells it by 10 o'clock. This is what the market patrons are saying.

A market house is not a very inviting place when the counters are piled high with meat having countless flies crawling over it, wilted lettuce and dried up vegetables. It is very evident that the market house is designed to be very short-lived in Marion unless the officials lay down a set of iron-clad rules which matter is now under consideration.

BLEEDING AND WOUNDED M'DOWELL STOOD GUARD

Seemingly Dying Man Stood at Post.

In the Midst of Wreckage, Baggagemaster Grasped Revolvers and Remained on Duty.

Even the thought that he might be in a dying condition did not supplant the thought of duty in the mind of W. H. McDowell, the Marion baggage master, who was badly injured in the Erie wreck near Kenton, Monday night. This is what the Kenton Democrat says about McDowell's show of bravery:

Baggage-master McDowell has been removed to his home in Marion.
When Mr. McDowell felt the car begin to sway, he grasped a handhold on the top of the car, but when the car was thrown from the track the hold was torn loose and he was covered with heavy trucks and baggage.
Mr. McDowell was found standing in a dazed condition with a revolver in each hand guarding the express and baggage while the blood was streaming down his face."

Tomorrow only at McClains—Iron Beds at 1-2 Price.
